

Call for Nominations

2018 Elsevier/JQSRT Peter C. Waterman Award

This prestigious Elsevier/JQSRT young-scientist award is named after Peter C. Waterman (1928–2012) whose ground-breaking research has had a dramatic and long-lasting impact and to a large degree has guided the progress in the disciplines of electromagnetic, acoustic, and elastic wave scattering by obstacles.

The 2018 Waterman Award will be competed among outstanding early-career scientists who work on the theory and applications of Electromagnetic Scattering. The award will be presented at the 17th Electromagnetic and Light Scattering Conference (ELS-XVII) which will be held at the Texas A&M University, College Station, USA from 4–9 March 2018. The award will consist of a certificate and a USD 750 monetary prize.

To qualify for consideration, a nominee:

- Must be a graduate or post-graduate student or in his/her early career path with an outstanding record of scholarship;
- Must have not received a JQSRT Young Scientist Award previously;
- Should have published in JQSRT previously, although this requirement may be relaxed in exceptional cases;
- Should be under 37 years of age on 7 March 2018 or finished his/her PhD within the 10 years preceding that date;
- Must present at least one paper at ELS-XVII;
- Must attend the award ceremony at ELS-XVII.

The recipient of the 2018 Waterman Award will be selected by a distinguished Award Committee and announced at the ELS-XVII conference banquet.

Each nomination package should be submitted, as a single PDF file, to Dr. Michael Mishchenko at crmim2@gmail.com and Professor M. Pinar Mengüç at pinar.menguc@ozyegin.edu.tr by 1 October 2017 and should consist of a nomination letter, the nominee's CV and publications list, up to 5 best peer-reviewed journal papers, and up to 3 letters of support.